Oneida Nation citizen and Vietnam veteran Mike Hill had the opportunity to take an Old Glory Honor Flight to Washington, D.C., on Wednesday, May 23. Hill, 72, is a United States Navy veteran who served onboard the USS Sutherland out of San Diego as a radioman second class (RM2).

"I was glad we were coming home (from Vietnam) but some of us had a pretty hard time," Hill said. "We weren't treated very well and I think the only people who were happy we were home were my mom and dad. But now all these years later I found out my cousin Fran Bingham submitted my name for the honor flight. Her husband had already been on one and said it was the most wonderful feeling in the world."

The Northeast Wisconsin Old Glory Honor Flight organization offers local WWII, Korean War, and Vietnam veterans a memorable, safe and rewarding tour of honor to the nation's capital. The tour happens in one day with the veteran departing on a flight from Appleton early that morning and returning that evening. During the trip, the veteran experiences accompanied tours of our national monuments and memorials, is well fed, and is well taken care of.

Be aware of bears in Oneida

The return of spring sets nature in motion as flowers bloom, birds migrate and black bears start lumbering into farm fields and neighborhoods.

"I was standing in the living room, and I just saw a big black presence out of the corner of my eye, and I turned my head and I seen that it was a huge bear," said Dave Skenandore who lives on County Highway H near the Town of Oneida Fire Station. The bear crossed his back yard as his daughter shot video from their back door.

"Right now what you're experiencing is young, sub-adult males moving through the area looking for home range. If people come across them in their yards, it's because they're attracted to some sort of food source, whether it's bird feeders, their barbecue grill, trash, recycling," said Natural Resource Director Shad Webster. "The department has received bear concerns for the past 10 years. There's always one roaming around the area."

Webster stated that a bear's sense of smell is seven times strong than that of a blood hound.

"If they get an easy meal, so to speak, and they're not startled or scared away, they're going to remember that and they're going to come back," Said Webster. "People need to be mindful of their trash and cleaning that up, keeping them in closed containers, and then also making sure that the grill areas are cleaned up ... the drippings in there, that needs to be cleaned up."

While male black bears can average 250 pounds or more, they're easily spooked.

"If you come across the bear, make noise, do not run. It may trigger their chase or attack instinct. They say to try and get as big as possible, even if you have a coat on, open and flare that so that you look bigger than the bear," said Webster. "Be aware, but don't be afraid. It's a cliché, but they really are more afraid of you than you are of them."

More caution should be taken with a female sow with cubs, however.

"Do not get in between the mom and her cubs. If they were in the area, and people wanted to go outside and do different things, make plenty of noise when you're out there; even a radio outside in the yard playing while you're out there," said Webster. The female, she's teaching her young. If she comes across easy food, she's going to teach that, it's going to get ingrained in those young ones."

The return of big animals such as bears, wolves, coyotes and bobcats to the Oneida Reservation is a sign of a healthy ecosystem, said Webster.

"They've always been here. The division, the nation itself has done a lot of work around the restoration efforts in our natural world, and with those enhancements brings in the opportunity for a ... species to come back," said Webster.

Webster wants people to contact his department about bear sightings.

"If (people) are experiencing some sort of aggressive or nuisance animal or bear, always notify your authorities, law enforcement, conservation department, but even if it's just a sighting, we like to hear those reports, too. It helps us to keep track of where they are, what they're doing, where they're moving," said Webster.

If you see a Bear...

- Don't run
- Make noise
- Make yourself as big as possible by waving your arms or using a jacket

Bear Checklist

- Don't put out bird seed and pet food
- Keep garbage in the garage and in closed containers
- Keep grills clean
- Rinse out recyclables before discarding
- Play a radio if you're going to be outside

Contact: Oneida Conservation at 920-869-1450 to report a sighting or a nuisance animal.

The Sustain Oneida Initiative strives to engage Oneida citizens about the Oneida Nation's enrollment issues. The goal of these articles is to generate community conversations about citizenship and belonging.

The Sustain Oneida Project was started by the Oneida Trust Enrollment Committee (OTEC) in order to communicate concerns about the declining Oneida enrollment trends. At the upcoming General Tribal Council meeting on June 18th, the OTEC will present information and trending of enrollment realities. The information is intended to encourage dialogue in the community and among families, particularly to explore alternative options of enrollment and/or citizenship.

Come join the fun!

The Thornberry Creek LPGA Classic is looking for additional volunteers to Marshal July 5th - 8th during the 2018 event.

A lifeline to the success of an LPGA event is the army of volunteers made up of willing and enthusiastic people in our community. Being a volunteer is a unique behind-the-scenes way to experience a professional golf tournament. It's fun, exciting, and gratifying to know that you are playing a vital role in its success.

What is a Marshal? Stationed throughout the course to ensure fair play among all participants, as well as safety for spectators. The focus is on the tees, landing areas, greens and spectator crosswalks. This committee will also assist in handling the movement of the players during an evacuation (if necessary).

For a registration fee of $55, volunteers receive a tournament shirt and hat, four weekly grounds passes ($300 value), one parking pass, and food and beverage during their shifts. Volunteers that work a minimum of 18 hours during the course of the event are eligible for one round of golf at Thornberry Creek at Oneida with greens fees waived ($25 cart fee still applicable). last year's defending tournament champion Katherine Kirk were on hand for media day at Thornberry Creek at Oneida on May 5.

"This is very exciting," Kirk said. "I have nothing but great memories from being in Oneida last year and I'm looking forward to coming back in (July) to get it going again."

Winner of the inaugural Sky Woman Trophy, Kirk has a special place in her home for last year's tournament trophy. "It's very proudly displayed in the rec room on my wet bar," Kirk said. "It definitely gets a lot of attention."

More than 62,000 spectators watched Kirk win the 2017 Thornberry Creek LPGA Classic and tournament officials anticipate an even better turnout for this year's event.

Despite the late spring snow activity in the area, the Thornberry Creek at Oneida golf course conditions are great. "After that big snow fall it's been absolutely beautiful outside," Josh Doxtator, Chief Operating Officer of Thornberry Creek at Oneida, said. "There hasn't been a lot of precipitation and the golf course is in unbelievable shape."

The 2018 Thornberry Creek LPGA Classic gets underway July 3-8 as 144 of the best female golfers in the world come together to compete for the Sky Woman Trophy and a $2 million purse.

LPGA will soon be here

We're just weeks away from hosting the second Thornberry Creek LPGA Classic! It's hard to imagine that it's already here and we're looking forward to hosting the best women Professionals in the world! You'll see 114 of the best competing on our own Thornberry Creek at Oneida and the golf course is shaping up to be in incredible condition.

Defending champ, Katherine Kirk, will set her sights on winning again and battle it out against an amazing field. Early commitments include a significant amount of players currently in the top 20 and plenty of new participants.

In preparation for the Classic, we thought we'd introduce some of the players committed to participating.

We thank you for the continued support and will showcase to the world, once again, what Oneida has to offer!

From 2/Hill Honor Flight

in Washington they were waiting for us and had a wheelchair ready for me," Hill said. "There were three busses in our tour that took us all over and we had police escorts everywhere. Seeing all of the memorials, the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and Arlington National Cemetery was an amazing experience."

Hill is very grateful for the opportunity to experience the honor flight. "I feel I was very lucky that I got to go on this trip," Hill said. "I spent some time at the Vietnam Memorial Wall and looked up a few names. I didn't mind serving my time for my country and this honor flight was a reward for that and it made me feel pretty proud.

"I wish everybody could go because it sure changed my attitude and outlook," Hill said. "I couldn't believe when we got back the airport in Appleton was just packed. They had music playing for us and were yelling 'welcome home'. This was a wonderful experience and something I will never forget."

Sakoli Swakweku:

(Greetings from me to all of you my best friends)

Yawáko

Congratulations to all the graduates, from Head Start all the way through College. Your hard work and dedication will pay off at each level of accomplishment.

Oh^tu Ya't^twakanlake (In Front of – All of Us Looking Ahead)

Seven Generation philosophy implies that the decisions we make today will impact those children yet to come. Our decisions today will impact our Oneida people in the year 2168. It is with this

Patricia King
Treasurer

in mind that I am reaching out to each of you to understand and support implementation of a Value-Based Budget strategy.

Our historic budgeting process is called “line-item budgeting”, and our current Nation’s budgeting policy is “everything is priority.” However, “Twahwistatye>n$tha> – We have a certain amount of money” tells us that we need to collectively prioritize the 1,200 programs / services provided by the Nation. Whether you are an employee, community member, or Oneida citizen, your voice is Our Nation.

The vision, or why we need to change, is to strengthen our Nation through Nation-building strategies. I was excited when membership clearly stated they wanted to be part of the budgeting process, which is reflected in the G.T.C. directive of April 11, 2016, “the Treasurer and the Business Committee to continue improving our budgeting actions and making those processes more open to input from the membership.” This collaborative effort, to implement a Value-based budgeting system, is a good path to Nation Building for Oneida people in the year 2168.

Our collaborative objective is to finalize the implementation of a Value Based Budget process enhancing fiscal transparency to the Nation’s employees, community members, and most importantly the General Tribal Council. The process will also include considerable change, not only for how the operations develop value based budgets, but also how we include GTC in the process prior to developing budgets. The end in mind is a process that allows membership to look forward and to help us set priorities so we can strategize and plan our budgets accordingly. Our annual and semi-annual reports may need change to validate alignment with the triennial priorities through proper measurements. We will always be looking forward, using our experience of the past.

Implementation of this strategy today lets our grandchildren and great-grandchildren know we were working for them. Your support is important.

Please be safe and enjoy Summer-2018 with family and friends.

Yawáko (Thank You) and Skáná (Peace) to the 17,014 enrolled Oneidas located throughout our Mother Earth

Employment Law

The Oneida Business Committee has fulfilled the March 19, 2017 GTC Directive and is recommending that the General

Tribal Council direct the Oneida Business Committee to continue working on this item and bring it back to the GTC at a later date.

There are three considerations the LOC has been working on which may be of particular interest to the membership. More changes may come in the future, but right now the LOC is considering three changes to the current draft of the law.

1. Personal/Vacation

Accrual Rates –

Reduce the amount of personal and vacation time a new employee can accrue starting on a specific date. Current employees would be exempt from this change.

2. Administrative Rulemaking – There are two ways this law can get adopted. One method is through rulemaking which means the law would be adopted by the GTC and the details would be in a separate document, Employment Law Handbook. Any changes to the handbook after adoption by the GTC would be made by the Human Resources Department and/or the Chief Executive Director of Administration.

The other method is for the GTC to adopt both the law and the handbook as one. Using this adoption method would mean that only the GTC could make amendments to the Employment Law.

3. Personnel Commission

/Personnel Selection Committee –

On April 11, 2018, the Oneida Business Committee adopted a resolution dissolving the Personnel Commission and transferred their hearing duties to the Oneida Judiciary. Using the Judiciary to hear grievance cases saves the tribe money and also reduces the amount of time it takes to complete cases.

The OBC also adopted another resolution recreating the Personnel Selection Committee. The role of this committee will be to protect against issues of nepotism and enforce Oneida and Indian Preference Laws.

The cumulative effect of these actions has essentially achieved the LOC’s goal to make hiring more efficient and to save time and resources.

Election Law Amendments

The GTC directed the Legislative Operating Committee (LOC) to bring back these amendments by the end of this year. In keeping with this directive, the LOC has met with the Election Board to gain input on these amendments and in conjunction with the Tribal Secretary’s office, this may be an agenda item for the September 24, 2018 GTC Meeting. Further updates will be sent to the membership.

Public Hearing

The LOC will be hosting a public hearing to gather comments on the draft Comprehensive Policy Governing Boards, Committees and Commissions on June 21, 2018 at 12:15 p.m. in the BC

Council Forum

Daniel Guzman-King
Councilman

Shekoli swakwek,

Our current generation of children face a unique set of life challenges that include family, social and personal issues that are coupled with society views, technology (i.e. social media), etc that significantly enhance those challenges. Our people have always placed a high priority on our children and I would like to highlight the Tetwatunhatényehse? (We are changing our lives), aka Oneida Nation Rites of Passage and the initiative being taken to enhance the lives of our children.

The Oneida Nation Rites of Passage's goal is to prepare our youth to effectively transition through life's challenges by learning about themselves, healthy family structures, and giving them an opportunity to connect to the Oneida culture and language by the Oneida community providing mentorship and guidance.

The Oneida Nation Rites of Passage is in the process of preparing our registered youth for their upcoming fasting ceremony as they begin their journey into adulthood. For our young women or nieces, it is when they start their moon. For our young men or nephews, it is when their voices begin to change. These youth and their families have committed themselves to attending weekly lessons since January. Their weekly lessons included teachings about the Oneida Creation Story, the Oneida Language, knowledge of ceremonies, sexual and reproductive health, good hygiene, healthy lifestyles, survival skills; all to prepare them for their fasting ceremony. Fasting in this sense, is when our Nieces and Nephews spend an allotted amount of time in their own personal lodge; while in solitude without food or other distractions from the world around them (i.e. cell phones, iPods, social media, etc.). This allows them time to focus on their mind, body, and spirit while on their journey. The lessons learned and the ceremony itself is not possible without the youth's family and the assistance of adult community members taking on the roles as Aunts and Uncles.

What makes this program unique is its focus on celebrating our youth's coming of age phase in life by using modern day insight, traditional ecological knowledge, and spiritual teachings in order to provide them with the tools to help balance their traditional and contemporary lifestyles. There is a lot of pressure put on them at this age. Not only are they learning more about life's realities and their body changes; they are also finding out who they are though their participation in clubs, sports, and other academic related activities, while tackling schoolwork, preparing for high school and/or college, and defining their role within their own family structure. So, how do we help without putting yet another responsibility on them? We aim to prepare them emotionally, physically, mentally and spiritually for their next phase in life.

Ideally, the Rites of Passage is a seven year commitment consisting of our youth fasting for the first four years with each year being represented by a different color, focus and an increase in the allotted amount of time spent in their sweat lodge; first year fasting for one day, second year for two days, third year for three days, and fourth year for four days. The remaining three (3) years allows for the Nieces and Nephews to return as mentors and continue their learning.

This is the second year of Tetwatunhatényehse? (We are changing our lives) - the Oneida Nation Rites of Passage teachings and the first year our group will be hosting the ceremony here in Oneida, WI. Our fasting ceremony will be held June 13th – June 17th. We have six (6) returning nieces, one (1) returning nephew, two (2) new nieces, and four (4) new nephews participating this year. As mentioned before, all this is not possible without the youth's family and the assistance of adult community members; not only in the roles as Aunts and Uncles, but also as fire keepers during the days of the ceremony. If interested in assisting with fire keeping Friday, June 15 through Sunday, June 17 please contact Iris Metoxen, Oneida Cultural Heritage's Admin. Assistant at (920) 496-5396 or by email at: imetoxel@oneidanation.org.

I truly believe that if we want to see a positive change in our nation for future generations then we must take the time to invest into our youth now. We must pass on that knowledge and understanding giving them the tools they need to lead a positive life. This is so incredibly vital to the strength, the health, and the future of our nation. This is the essence of nation building; and in our case, it is Nation Rebuilding.

"When you sit and you counsel for the welfare of the people, think not of yourself, nor of your family, nor even your generation."

Free meals throughout summer break

GREEN BAY, WI ~ Stressing the importance of offering nutritious meals to children during the summer months, the Green Bay Area Public School District announces the sponsorship of the Summer Food Service Program.

The Summer Food Service Program (SFSP), which is funded by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) and is administered by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, provides nutritious meals to children during the summer, when free and reduced-price school meals are typically unavailable. Free meals will be made available to children 18 years of age and under. Persons over 18 years of age who are determined by a state or local public educational agency to be mentally or physically disabled and who also participate in a public or private non-profit school program during the regular school year may receive free meals as well.

The following locations will be serving free meals this summer (refer to site list for locations and times below). Meals are free to students 1 – 18 years old and adult meals are $3.00. Meals are provided to eligible children regardless of race, color, national origin, age, gender or disability and there will be no discrimination in the course of meal service.

“This program fills a void created when school lunches are not available,” said Lynette Zalec, Director of Food Services. “Helping parents meet the nutritional needs of their children is the strength of this program.”

The daily food service schedule for each park day beginning June 13 through August 17 (no July 4 or July 31 meals), Monday through Friday, is as follows:

THUNDERHAWK TIMES

School days done today

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

It won't be long now, hardworking ONHS students, before you are sleeping in, floating on your air mattress on the lake or slurping on that ice cream cone.

The last day of school is today, June 7. Graduation for the Class of 2018 is tonight at the Radisson tonight.

For those of you who need to finish a course or make up some credits or get a jump on an online course, Summer School starts up next Tuesday, June 12 and runs through Thursday, June 28.

Band Camp

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

This summer's Oneida School System band camp runs from August 13-16 and 20-23. This year, however, at least a couple of high school students will be participating, which has not occurred before.

Camp begins each day at 12:30 and pick up is at 4:25. A concert on Thursday, August 23 is open to the public at 3:00 pm.

ONHS seniors Alyssa Noriega and Iselena Torres-Mejia will be participating.

Students, grades 6-9, can try a different instrument from the one they currently play or they can work with Master Musicians perfecting their current instrument.

for continuing their education," Gullickson said. "We will work on FAFSAs, Accuplacer Tests and applying to and, possibly even, enrolling in one of the schools.

In the past, Gullickson has even invited area cosmetology colleges and others based on student interest.

"This started out for our 15-credit grads, but last year some of our regular 23.5 credit grads also needed a little help getting started so we have included them."

PM College

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

ONHS grads, if you want a "one-stop shopping" opportunity to get your FAFSA, Accuplacers and college application and enrollment underway, then June 19 is the date for you.

That afternoon, from 1-4 pm, ONHS Owatsileh Coordinator Denis Gullickson, will be bringing together Oneida Higher Ed, NWTC and CMN for what he calls "PM College."

"This is a chance for our recent grads to get connected with Higher Ed for funding and with the college of their choice

Honors Biology to Turtle School

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

The week of May 21, ONHS science teacher Dale Hallam took his Honors Biology class to the Turtle School to assist with frog dissection with middle school science students and instructor Chelsea Wood.

Hallam said the time was a chance "to bring together several honors biology students along with 7th grade students to participate in what I hope becomes an annual event. The event was a tutoring/mentoring activity focused around frog dissection in the middle school."

Because of his own background tutoring and mentoring before he became a teacher, Hallam is a strong believer in "the benefits for both the students being tutored as well as for those were doing the tutoring. I believe therefore that it is critical to establish and maintain a link between the older and younger generations of students within a community."

One outcome was that the "high school students were able to experience teaching and working directly with youth in professional atmosphere," said Hallam.

A long-term outcome, Hallam said he hoped, was that the high school students "may at least consider a career in education in the future. Along with the opportunity to work with much more experienced student, middle schoolers were able to spend time with some really good role models."

As for a little team-building, there was even sometime between dissections that students from both schools were able to get together and shoot some hoops during 7th grade gym time.

"Thanks, Mr. Todd, for letting us do that!" Hallam said.

Honors Biology students who participated: Eleciah Danforth, Desmond Degroot, Billy Doxtator, Malia Jacobs, Kaleigh Johnson, Charlene Peters, Sadie Schuman and CJ Summers.

My Scoop

Summer and Family

By Ottawa Brown
Thunderhawk Times

Many people around the world are very happy for the summer to pop in right around the corner. If you are a summer person, then you know how it feels when you smell the flower pollen in the air and the clouds getting clearer. Personally, I love summer, but I do not like gloomy sad summer days.

I am planning to move to Milwaukee for the summer with my family to go and see my grandma. I want to have all my family in one big house so I can have some company and have the best people in the world to me be around me.

Family is way different when you've been working for weeks on end, because when you're in your head concentrating and randomly get a little flashback of a memory of a family member, that makes you miss them and make you feel like you're in need of family time.

This is the urge feeling that I am getting for being at school in Green Bay for far too long.

Summer plans are just to hang with family, party, relax, and reminisce.

age song being 3 minutes and 45 seconds. Though they used a few songs that are on the tracklist for their greatest hits, and greatest hits deluxe album, they still fit in with And Justice for None.

Five Finger Death Punch has been making music, changing their sound, and doing everything they can to keep and gain fans since 2005, many people have grown to love the band. There will surely be many more fans to come with each album they release.

Lady T-Hawks coach comments on season

By Thunderhawk
Times Staff

The following are excerpts from the comments read at the annual ONHS sports banquet by assistant coach Muriel King on behalf of head Lady T-Hawks softball coach, Brad Skenandore.

"From day one with this team I saw something special ... The first two weeks these ladies were put through workouts that many college level players go through ...

"It was an hour of pushing themselves to their limits physically and the second hour was working on fundamentals. What amazed me was the mentality and how they would not quit. So many would push themselves beyond that point where we would tell them to take a breather and they would constantly tell us, 'I can make it coach.' After an hour of this, many would go home and rest, but these ladies then went through an hour of softball drills.

"Working with them day in and day out you could see improvements coming so fast ... Looking back at it, we were improving so fast that some of the players forgot that just 5 weeks before that they never played in a fast pitch game ... Every coach and umpire we played against took me aside at each game and told me how much these girls need to take a bow for how much improvement they have shown ... We are a program in building mode, but we have to remember that you need to crawl before you walk and walk before you run.

"Muriel King and Kathy Doxtater were outstanding assistants ... Thanks also goes to Clint DeGroot, Jeremiah Danforth and Shane Thomas.

"Last but most definitely not least I want to thank the ladies for everything they put into this ... I told them this is something where I can bring them back together five or ten years down the road and say 'this is the team that changed how Oneida Lady T-Hawks softball is viewed ... I am looking forward to seeing you all the next season and can't wait to see what the future has in store.'"

Menominee Tribe Disappointed on Michigan's Issuance of Wetlands Permit for the Back Forty Mine Project

Menominee Indian Reservation, Wis. ~ The Menominee Indian Tribe is disappointed by the decision by the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality to issue a wetlands permit for Aquila Resources' open pit sulfide mine project that will endanger a crucial interstate waterway of the Menominee River and will jeopardize the Tribe's ancestral homelands and sacred sites.

"Our Tribe maintains our stance against this open pit mine project, and we made our objection throughout the permitting process," said Menominee Indian Tribal Chairman Cox. "We are not surprised by the issuance of the wetlands permit by Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, but we are surprised that many of the concerns raised by the public, tribes, and EPA were not addressed. Michigan Department of Environmental Quality has made minimal efforts to communicate with the Tribe on our concerns of tremendous impact to our cultural resources."

This permit will allow mine developer Aquila Resources, Inc., to fill and excavate Menominee River wetlands for a large, open-pit mine and industrial minerals-processing facility on the banks of the Menominee River, which borders Wisconsin and flows into Lake Michigan. The site is located within an expansive Menominee cultural landscape that includes Tribal burial grounds, ancient agricultural sites and ceremonial sites of significance to the Menominee Tribe, some of which have already been deemed eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. The Tribe has filed a lawsuit against the United States Army Corps of Engineers and Environmental Protection Agency's decision to allow the State of Michigan to oversee the Clean Water Act federal permitting process, asserting permitting fill and excavation on the Menominee River and its wetlands cannot be delegated to a state under the Act.

The Menominee Tribe remains adamant, committed, and responsible to protecting our sacred sites and the people, the wildlife, and the water on the Menominee River.

Miss Oneida focuses on Oneida language

Miss Oneida Katsistowan
Natasha Stevens

Shekoli, my name is Katsistowan Natasha Stevens. I am Miss Oneida 2017-2018. I work at the Oneida Language Revitalization Program as a language apprentice. There are five other language apprentices. As language apprentices, a couple things we do is teach the after school language programs at the Oneida Nation Elementary School and participate in the Ukwatsi'nahkwa (Our nest) Language Nest. Ukwatsi'nahkwa is a group of Oneida families who come together to reclaim the roles and responsibilities to the children, by providing a supportive environment, which promotes a positive sense of identity through Oneida language and cultural practices. Bob Brown also participates in the language nest.

As a group, we raised enough money to travel to Akwesasne, New York and visit their language nest at the Akwesasne Freedom School in February. We also attended the Tetewatieronnon Variety Show and the 5th annual Rotinohsio'n:ni: Sharing our Successes and Discussing our Issues in Language Revitalization in Kahnawake, Quebec.

Currently, we have tapped twelve maple trees and are collecting sap. Aside from working at the Oneida Language Revitalization Department and Ukwatsi'nahkwa, I am attending the University of Wisconsin - Green Bay. One of my favorite classes I am taking this spring is Second Language Acquisition.

Hello everyone! Yehutsyawistotha' is my name, which means She Cools the Earth. My English name is Alexandria (Lexi) Levinson. I am turtle clan and of the Oneida Nation. Waehiahoweh Maracle and Shawn Levinson are the names of my parents. Nancy Barton and Jon Maracle are the names of my grandparents. Julie and Robert Barton are the names of my great-grandparents. I am 18 years old and I am currently studying the Oneida Language and Culture aside from finishing up my last semester of my senior year at Kimberly High School. Leander Danforth is my Language teacher.

I started off third quarter of our 2017-2018 reign with a bit of a stumble. I broke my foot and was on crutches for a significant period of time. Even so, I still managed to make it to Lambeau Field to watch the halftime show, crutches and all. That was awesome!

I also began my second semester of senior year! This semester I only have 2 classes in the morning, so I get done at about 10:30am every day. After school I commute up to the language house where I am studying under Leander. I really enjoy learning Oneida. It is a lot different from the typical French or Spanish we are all used to learning in public schools. I never had the opportunity to attend our tribal schools

Denny to represent Wisconsin on Badger Selects Rugby Team

Special to Kali

Josh Denny is a 6ft., 205lb junior from Green Bay Southwest and member of the Green Bay Leprechauns Rugby Football Club. Josh tried out for and was selected to represent the State of Wisconsin on the Badger Selects Rugby Team. Josh is 1 of only 24 Wisconsin players to have earned this honor.

On June 8, the Badger Selects kick off their summer tour with the Rocky Mountain Challenge (RMC) in Denver, Colorado. The RMC hosts state all-star teams from all over the Nation and has a long-standing tradition of providing the highest level of high school rugby competition in the country. The RMC is considered the premier high school rugby event in the United States and is attended by college and club coaches as well as selectors from the USA National Teams. In 2017, the Badger Selects took 3rd place at the RMC and this year their goal is to return home National Champions.

On June 16, the Badger Selects travel to the Lemont, Illinois for the Cody Cup which is a border battle between Wisconsin's Badger Selects and Illinois' All-State Team, the Tornados.

On June 22, The Badger Selects will be attending the Midwest Regional All Star Tournament in Fishers, Indiana. The Midwest Regional hosts State All Star Teams from Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Minnesota.

This is Josh's third year being associated with rugby and only his second year as a player. The first year Josh was unfortunately sidelined with a torn ACL and a broken ankle. However, injuries did not stop him from learning as he was a true team player and respectively attended every practice and game even though he could not play. It took Josh a lot of hard work, conditioning, self-discipline and dedication to achieve this great honor. Josh's family, friends and the Oneida Nation could not be prouder."

Singing Group Shines

The Young Men's Singing Group sang the Friendship Dance for the Haudenosaunee Tattoo and Regalia Traditions event May 19.

By Mark Powless
SEOTS Director

On Wednesday, April 11 Southeastern Oneida Tribal Services (SEOTS) kicked off a Young Men's Singing Group with teacher Kal^na Daniels. The group targets youth, ages 7-15, to sing Oneida Social Dance songs. The group meets weekly to practice, but has convened for recreational trips to Bounce Milwaukee and Dave & Buster's. Included as part of the program are two special events.

The first of the special events took place on Saturday, May 19, 2018. The event, Haudenosaunee Tattoo and Regalia Traditions, featured presentations by Michael Galban and Lot^t Honyust and attracted nearly 60 attendees.

To start the event and welcome the guests, the Young Men's Singing Group sang the Friendship Dance. The song/dance is intended to welcome new and old friends and is sung with a water drum and cow horn rattles. Despite a mild case of butterflies the singers sang well and impressed the onlookers.

Their next event will be the SEOTS Community Picnic on Saturday, June 23, 2018 and is taking place at Humboldt Park Pavilion (3000 S. Howell Avenue, Milwaukee) from 11am until 3pm. The event is a potluck meal, so attendees should bring a healthy dish to share. The event will express Oneida culture and also includes Corn Soup, the traditional game of Long Ball, a visit by Oneida Royalty and Oneida Business Committee Members, and much more. Registration by Friday, June 15 is encouraged.

Young men interested in joining the group can contact SEOTS by calling 414-329-4101.

Director of the film Silent No More Erin Williams and Executive Director of White Bison Inc. Carlos Rivera was on hand to answer questions at a showing of the movie on May 29.

By Mark Powless SEOTS Director

A study by the American Public Health Association of American Indian causes of death between 1999 and 2009 found Indigenous women had a homicide rate three times that of white women. In addition, Indigenous women experience high rates of violence in their lives.

A recent film, Silent No More, by White Bison, Inc. focuses on the issue of missing and murdered Indigenous women. Families from the Pine Ridge reservation in South Dakota were interviewed to gather first-hand accounts of how cases of the missing and murdered play out and the impact on their lives. The film ended highlighting the hopeful activism taking place in the Pine Ridge community to protect the residents.

With the help of community partner, HIR Wellness Center, the film was shown at Southeastern Oneida Tribal Services on Tuesday, May 29. Approximately 60 people arrived for the showing. After the film, the Executive Director of White Bison, Inc., Carlos Rivera, and the Director of the film, Erin Williams, explained several details of the production and answered questions from the attendees.

According to their website, White Bison, Inc. offers sobriety, recovery, addictions prevention, and wellness/Wellbriety learning resources to the Native American/Alaska Native community nationwide. A second showing of the film in Milwaukee is scheduled for Friday, October 5 at a location to be determined.

Wandering Wisco Waterfalls: Dave's Falls

By Kateri Baker
Special to the Kalihwisaks

Sure, everyone loves cascading waterfalls. She is both beautiful and graceful with her long sleek water falling into perfect splashes that accentuate the pool below. She is photogenic and automatically improves the look of all those who photo around her. While this is great, these are not the falls that I like the most. The best falls to experience are ones that create the most energy! The ones that are rapid with rock creating friction. The ones with the raging waters, that meet the most resistance, create the best mist. You need only approach with caution and take a breath in to feel her power.

It is almost a perfect mistake naming these falls a widely accepted male name, Dave. These falls are currently named after a lumberjack, Dave Frechette, that died trying to clear a log jam in what was then named Pem-a-wan Falls in 1881. These falls are so strong and formidable, that giving this female Spirit a masculine name, seems appropriate.

These falls are reminiscent of a female transitioning from a young woman to a mature woman. She is in the beginning stages of an awakening. One she may not have prepared for but is here, nonetheless. She is turbulent, full of energy, and surrounded by protective walls of rock. The rock underneath the falls is the resistance, generating this powerful energy. The subconscious is becoming conscious. The lessons are coming to surface. The past is coming to heal in the now. From an onlooker, having had this experience, the whitewater created by such resistance is a beautiful depiction of what a woman experiences mentally, emotionally, and spiritually during this phase in life. It is a reminder of my own transition and I hope you let her be yours, as well.

When you hear her from afar and approach her from the trail that leads you to the rock wall located next to her, you may find yourself a little dizzy at first, if you are not careful. You don't approach this Spirit in this state of being without respect. She is strong enough to insist upon it now. This kind of energy is heard from afar for a reason. Almost like a cautionary alarm, you hear her rage the moment you step out of your vehicle in the park. It is strong in every way. The water works through a narrow chute with such force the water froths at surface level from the very beginnings all the way to the bottom of the fall. When you stand on top of the rock wall and look down and around, you see a way around the rock. With a little clamoring, one can get near this raging rapid fall at the bottom. Like a woman going through this transition, you must approach with caution. She is so powerful; it is easy to see how she got her name.

Dave's Falls is located on State Road 141 in Amberg, Wisconsin.

The good news is that you do not need to enter the fall to reap the benefits of her energy. You don't even need to get that close to feel it! It is pushed over the rock, despite the height of the surrounding rock on the beginning trail side. There is a path that veers left that allows you to walk over a bridge to view the falls from downstream but with enough height to enjoy the full view. Depending on your level of comfort, you can choose how you wish to experience her presence.

The same intuitive need that draws you to

Green Bay school board against armed guards

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) – The Green Bay public school board is against a police proposal to place armed guards in the district's schools.

Green Bay Police Chief Andrew Smith proposed the idea in February, a week after the Parkland, Florida school shooting that left 17 dead. Smith estimated the cost at $2.5 million a year.

WLUK-TV reports that although Superintendent Michelle Langenfeld joined Smith at a news conference last February announcing the proposal, on Monday she supported directing additional money to mental health resources and other supportive services. School board members sided with citizens who spoke against the armed guards.

The board is expected to take a formal vote against the proposal at its next meeting.

and learn the language. So until I started going to the language house to learn, everything I knew was self-taught or I picked it up while attending longhouse ceremonies. The fact that I was self-taught makes even more thankful to Leander for teaching me and sharing his knowledge with all of us at the language house.

During January, we had Tsa'tekohselha (Mid-winter Ceremony). I look forward to this ceremony all year long. I've always had a special connection to Midwinter because my name stems from this time of year. By this time I was also off of crutches (super yay!) and was able to dance ostowa'kowa (Great Feather Dance) and one'holu (Drum Dance). That was an amazing way to start out the New Year.

I am certainly looking forward to March because it's wahta (Maple) season! I've been learning how to tap trees for almost five years now and have been learning more about how the boiling down process works. I love learning the whole process and teachings behind how and why we tap maple trees.

I look forward to continuing my language and culture learning in the few months to come. I'm also really looking forward to graduation!

the outdoors is the same energy that is happening at this fall. It was divine timing to experience the falls as one of my firsts and is one of the best to visit early in your own waterfall trail because it is a perfect descriptor of what one experiences during this type of ascension.

During an unexpected transition, one might try to pretend everything is fine, like a beautiful cascading waterfall, but when reality is finally accepted, the work needed can no longer be avoided. You begin your work through the lessons. The whitewater surfaces but subsides as you heal and flow to calmer waters. The only way to let go is through. Through the process and work, onlookers are inspired. They feel your energetic mist and either move toward their own ascension or sit in appreciation, reminiscent of their own past progress. This is all the more reason to go to this Spirit. It is always one for everyone, no matter what phase in life you are in, and is readily available.

PUBLIC NOTICE: Application of Herbicide June 11 – July 23

The Oneida Nation has been notified by American Transmission Company that they will again be completing maintenance on their easement that flows through many of our properties and close to some areas that have been developed for residential purposes. The maintenance that will be happening this year is the application of a herbicide, Garlon 3A. It is used to inhibit the growth of unwanted weeds, brush or trees beneath electrical power lines, roadsides, pipelines and railbeds. The application will help eliminate the potential fire hazard to the safe operation of the transmission lines. Mowing and trimming remain an important part of vegetation control but it also tends to cause plants to respond by sending out multiple resprouts, a natural defense mechanism, which can worsen the problem. Machinery running through can cause soil erosion and steep terrain can prevent mechanical methods being used. The use of the herbicide will reduce the need for more machinery damaging the area.

Triclopyr, the active ingredient in Garlon 3A has been tested by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and has been classified by the EPA as "practically nontoxic" (the least toxic category used by EPA) to mammals, insects, freshwater fish and invertebrates. It has shown no evidence of causing cancer, birth defects, or adverse effects on the immune or nervous systems in humans. The active ingredient works like a growth regulator on enzymes found only in plants. Foliar applications will be used which is a spray solution of Garlon 3A in water on the plants leaves. Weather conditions are observed to determine when the solution will best be applied.

Regardless, people and their pets are advised to stay away from the area until the herbicide has dried, about 2 hours. Berries should not be consumed although they have determined that accidental consumption by the average person (150 pounds) of 5.5 quarts of treated berries each day for the rest of his or her life can result in no adverse effects experienced.

The application is expected to be completed within a few days, but a 6 week period beginning June 11th through July 23rd has been reserved for this area. For more information on Garlon 3A you can contact Dow Agro Sciences at www.VegetationMgmt.com on line or info@dow.com or call 1-800-263-1196. This notice is being provided by Diane Wilson, Property Manager, Environmental Health Safety and Land Division, Oneida Nation (dwilson@oneidanation.org).

Wise Women Gathering Place Offers Summer Programming for Oneida and Green Bay Youth

Green Bay, Wisconsin ~ This summer, participants in the Wise Youth program at Wise Women Gathering Place (WWGP), youth can look forward to fun outdoor activities as well as learning about healthy relationships. Together in partnership with Oneida Experiential and Adventure, the Wise Youth program participants between 13-18 years of age can participate in rock climbing, biking, canoeing and other adventures lead by Oneida Experiential and Adventure, while continuing to learn about teen dating violence prevention and healthy relationships that are emphasized during the school-year Wise Youth programming.

This summer, participants who have registered both with both agencies can participate in five outdoor option days with Oneida Experiential and Adventure on five select Fridays throughout the summer. The rest of the summer, high school aged Wise Youth members can join other area youth in “regular” scheduled summer programming held on Mondays—this year lead by two Wise Youth graduates, Kwnwahta Smith and Angalee Powless. The Wise Youth mission is, “to stop abuse and think before action. We will better the world one step at a time by helping to improve relationships because no youth or teen should be left behind or forgotten.”

Additional youth opportunities include White Bison: Purpose of Life, which purpose is for high school age youth and young adults to work on problem solving skills, cultural capacity building, and recognizing their purpose to create meaning and identity for their lives. Purpose of Life workshop will be held on July 10-12, 17-19th at Wise Women Gathering Place. As well as Discovery Dating: Growing Together class.

To register or for more information about programming for any of these summer youth program activities with WWGP, please contact Jessica or Breann at Wise Women Gathering Place, 920-490-0627.

University of Wisconsin researchers study bats, mosquitoes

MADISON, Wis. (AP) ~ A recently published study by University of Wisconsin researchers found the bats they studied ate 17 different types of mosquitoes, including nine that are potential carriers of the West Nile Virus.

Researchers studied two species of bats; the little brown bat and the big brown bat, Wisconsin Public Radio reported .

The study was published in the Journal of Mammalogy.

Researchers analyzed the bats' fecal material from samples collected at more than 20 Wisconsin sites in 2014.

The study found that bats eat a lot of mosquitoes in the spring, said Amy Wray, the study's author and a UW-Madison Department of Forest and Wildlife Ecology PhD student.

"They come out of hibernation and bats are super hungry, and there might not be a lot of insects around," Wray said. "Mosquitoes may not have a lot of calories or provide a lot of energy, but if they're the only thing around, it might mean they could be important for bats at certain times of the year."

DNA analysis identified 17 different mosquito types, including nine that can carry the West Nile Virus.

"So, that's sort of an interesting thing to consider, whether (bats) potentially having an effect on (limiting) any kind of disease spread," Wray said.

Bats are more likely to eat mosquitoes that breed multiple times a year, the study found.

Researchers hope future studies will examine the volume of mosquitoes bats eat and how that impacts mosquito suppression, according to a university release.

Seniors Jordan, Fowler earn All-State track honors

The Oneida Nation Thunderhawks have seen several of their student athletes excel in various sports this past school year. The latest to be added to that list now includes seniors Glen Fowler and Lorenz Jordan. With the unpredictable Wisconsin weather wreaking havoc on almost all spring prep sports schedules, Fowler and Lorenz were able to demonstrate their athleticism on the track field despite the shortened season and earn All-State recognition for the Oneida Nation High School

The 2018 WIAA State High School Track and Field Meet took place the weekend of June 1 on the campus of the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse.

Fowler, a multi-sport high school athlete who also played basketball, found success on the high jump this season. "I competed in the high jump in 8th grade so I've done it before," Fowler said. "I ended up liking it better than any other event and it felt pretty good making state this year because I didn't make it last year."

Fowler, who will be attending the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh next year and plans on pursuing track, was unable to compete at the state meet due to unforeseen circumstances.

Jordan, also a multi-sport athlete who participated in basketball and enjoys boxing, says he decided to join the track team because of the running. "Things went really well this year," Jordan, who competed in 3200 meter race, said. "We didn't have as many meets this year because of the snow but it felt good to make All-State. Boxing is my favorite sport so I used to run for training, and when the school got a track team I thought I'd try it out. I turned out to be pretty good at it."

Jordan, making his second All-State appearance for the Thunderhawks, finished with a time of 10:24 in the 3200 meter race. Jordan plans on running track for St. Norbert College next year.

Second-year Oneida Nation Track and Field Coach Jacqui Jenkins has high praise for the two student athletes. "They're both great kids," Jenkins, who also teaches health at ONHS, said. "They've stayed healthy, they have great respect, and they both do well in school. They've been very dedicated in trying to get to state by being at practices, and having fun with it. I am proud of Glen and Lorenz's hard work throughout the season and I wish them the best of luck in future academics and athletics.

Jenkins is glad Fowler and Jordan were able to receive the All-State honors despite a season that saw more than half of their scheduled meets canceled. "This season was hard on everybody because all spring sports were affected," Jenkins said. "I don't think our track athletes got to go to their full potential overall this year but both Glen and Lorenz set personal records in their respective events."

Oneida Scholars Coming to the Community Education Center

www.kalihwisaks.com

By Marena Bridges
Oneida Community
Education Center
Sometimes it is easy to forget that the Oneida Nation has over 17,000 enrolled members. It can be even easier to forget that many of those members have completed college degrees, have engaged in important research, have a wide range of interesting jobs inside and outside of the community, and have a long list of accomplishments in addition to their subject area expertise. The Oneida Community Education Center hopes to spotlight some of those accomplishments and subject matter expertise in our inaugural Oneida Scholars event.

Higher education can be a bit of a minefield for Indigenous peoples. According to the Partnership with Native Americans (PWNA) "... more than 60% of U.S.
high school students go on to college, while only 17% of American Indian students are able to continue their education."
PWNA goes on to state that "...while 28 percent of Americans complete college, only 13 percent of Native Americans hold a college degree." The PWNA attributes this to cultural exclusion in many schools, a lack of access to financial and professional resources, and the relative isolation of many reservations.

Furthermore, according to the American College Personnel Association (ACPA) "...the majority of Native American students are the first in their families to attend higher education, are employed while in college, have dependents, and live in poverty."

These disparities highlight the importance of addressing the barriers to higher education for Inigenous peoples. They also demonstrate the importance of recognizing communities that have worked diligently to address those issues, e.g.

the Oneida Nation who has implemented a Higher Education program, and individuals within those communities who have accomplished a great deal both inside and outside of academia.

That's where Oneida Scholars comes in. The event features four Oneida scholars, researchers, and/or authors who have done work around issues of Oneida identity and culture. Norbert S. Hill,

Wisconsin high court backs Ho-Chunk, protects burial sites

By Todd Richmond
Associated Press

MADISON, Wis. (AP) ~ A concrete company can't dig up American Indian burial mounds located within its southern Wisconsin quarry, the state Supreme Court ruled Tuesday without any explanation.

The court deadlocked 3-3 after Justice Daniel Kelly withdrew from participation, meaning the appellate ruling protecting the mounds stands. The three-sentence opinion doesn't offer any legal analysis or explanation, doesn't explain why Kelly withdrew and doesn't say which justices voted to uphold or overturn the lower court's ruling.

The case revolves around Wingra Redi-Mix's eight-year effort to excavate effigy mounds within its quarry in Blooming Grove. The mounds are listed in the Wisconsin Historical Society's burial sites catalog, which means Wingra needs a state permit to disturb them.

Wingra made the request for a permit in 2010 but the historical society denied it. The company asked the state Division of Hearings and Appeals to overrule the society.

The Ho-Chunk Nation joined the dispute and argued against a permit. The DHA refused to grant the permit, saying cultural, tribal or religious interests and the mounds' historical value outweigh the economic benefits that would come with excavating.

Wingra sued in Dane County in 2014 demanding a permit, arguing there's no evidence the mounds contain human remains and the Ho-Chunk don't have a specific interest in the quarry mounds. A judge ordered DHA to reconsider Wingra's permit application, but the 4th District Court of Appeals reversed him last summer.

The appellate court found that the question of whether human remains are present isn't a factor in deciding whether to grant a permit and the authority to determine whether remains are present rests with the historical society.

The court also found that the Ho-Chunk have an interest in all American Indian burial sites in southern Wisconsin because the entire region was the tribe's homeland. The tribe considers disturbing the quarry mounds a desecration because the tribe believes disturbing the dead condemns their souls to wander, the court added.

Wingra attorney Bryan Nowicki didn't immediately reply to a Tuesday voicemail. Ho-Chunk Nation spokesman Collin Price had no immediate comment.
